

Job advertisement reference number 45/2022

The Faculty of Economics, Law and Social Sciences at the University of Erfurt intends to appoint to the following Professorship at the earliest possible date:

Professorship (W3) in Public Law and Foundations of Law (f/m/d)

Area of Responsibility

The holder of the position should represent the above-mentioned fields of public law in research and teaching at the Faculty of Economics, Law and Social Sciences, in particular in the subjects of modern legal history and theory of law. The Faculty takes an interdisciplinary approach to its subjects. The holder of the position is expected to contribute to teaching in the courses of the Faculty, some of which are taught in English.

What we expect

In addition to the general public service regulations, applicants must fulfil the requirements for appointment set forth in Section 84 of the Thuringian Higher Education Act (Thüringer Hochschulgesetz, ThürHG).

The applicant must have completed a doctoral programme and must have a record of excellent research contributions as well as teaching experience in the above-mentioned areas, especially constitutional and administrative law, if possible also with international and/or constitutional-historical references, proven experience in the acquisition of third-party funding and postdoctorate/Habilitation or habilitation-equivalent achievements. Special emphasis is placed on the ability to link research and teaching to the other fields of study of the Faculty of Economics, Law and Social Sciences. The successful candidate is further expected to have a good command of both written and spoken German (reading and listening skills at CEFR level B2, writing and speaking skills at level B1).

The University of Erfurt requires great commitment to teaching as well as a willingness to participate in academic self-administration.

What we offer

As an equal-opportunity employer the University of Erfurt promotes the compatibility of career and family life. It offers dual careers, a wide range of further training opportunities and coaching, as well as health and prevention services as part of its corporate health management.
